L'Assemblée canadienne de la danse

Friday, September 24th

Keynote Speaker: Simon Brault Originally from Montreal, Simon Brault has been Director General of the National Theatre School of Canada since 1997. He was the School's Administrative Director from 1992 to 1997, during which time he was the driving force behind the project to restore the historic Monument-National in Montreal.

Convinced that the cultural milieu needed to increase its connections with other players in society, Mr. Brault was closely associated with the Forum d'action des milieux culturels de la Métropole from 1994 to 1999. He also initiated Journées de la culture, a massive undertaking first held in 1997 to popularize the arts and culture across Quebec. During the Sommet de Montréal in June 2002, he led a delegation of 20 leaders of the cultural community. He was chief organizer and chair of the steering committee of RV07 - Montreal, Cultural Metropolis

(2007). Mr. Brault is also a founding member of Culture Montréal and has been its elected Chair since it began in 2002. In 2008, Mr. Brault received the Canadian Conference of the Arts' Keith Kelly Award for Cultural Leadership. That year, he was also appointed a Fellow of the Certified General Accountants' Association. He is an Officer of the Order of Canada. In September 2009, he published Le Facteur C – L'avenir passe par la culture, Éditions Voix Parallèles (No Culture, No Future, Cormorant Books).

A long-time advocate for cultural communities and a self-described "cultural development activist," Mr. Brault began a five-year term as Vice-Chair of the Canada Council on March 31, 2004. In January 2009, it was announced that his term was renewed for another 5 years effective March 31, 2009.

Provincial Funding Cuts: A National Issue

Moderator: Andrea Vagianos

Speakers: Dianne Milligan, Robert Sirman, Randy Joynt

Following an update on CDA's advocacy work, this panel will investigate a range of questions around funding cuts: How do we cope as a collective when some of our colleagues are experiencing radical funding cuts and others maintain the status quo? How do provincial cuts impact federal funding? Is it anyone's responsibility to make up the difference? Can the collective come up with any ideas to help colleagues in crisis survive?

Followed by a report from the Dance Companies Standing Council

The Shifting Realities of Mid-Career and Senior Independent Artists

Moderator: Peggy Baker

Speakers: Serge Bennathan, Susie Burpee, Helen Husak, Dana Gingras, Nova Bhattacharya

How do our existing structures support or not support the independent dance artist? Are artists trapped within particular infrastructure models because going "independent" means a step backward in the funding process? What shifts occur as one moves from emerging to mid-career to senior artist?

Followed by a report from the Independent Artists Standing Council

Are We Stalled at the Station?: Issues in National and International Touring

Moderator: Mimi Beck

Speakers: Harry Paterson, Gilles Savary, Bengt Jorgen, Jay Hirabayashi

What are the current trends in national and international touring? How are artists, presenters and funders working to find solutions in the current economy? This panel will examine success stories and challenges faced in the touring industry to help paint a picture of our current reality.

Followed by a report from the Dance Presenters Standing Council

Background on Mapping the Sector and Building a Dance Plan

Speakers: Caroline Miller, Lorraine Hébert

Hear from professionals who have undertaken significant research in their country. Learn more about what is involved in mapping the sector and what a dance plan entails.

Creating a Dynamic Future: Mapping the Sector and Making a Plan

Moderator: Jane Marsland

Speakers: Caroline Miller, Anne Valois, Lorraine Hébert, CDA Standing Council representatives

Several western countries have recently engaged in this deep research and planning including Germany, Belgium and England. Working in partnership with funders, they have developed strategies directed at improving the dance sector in their respective countries in various capacities; each dance plan is specific to each nation. In 2009, the Regroupement Québécois de la danse held its États généraux investigating and developing strategies to support the dance milieu in Québec. The CDA conference presents a good opportunity to begin to discuss what a dance plan for Canada might entail, and to think about how we can direct our art form into the future.

Followed by a report from the Service & Support Standing Council

Diversity of Practice: What are the Realities of Current Presenting Practice?

Moderator: Santee Smith

Speakers: Kevin Ormsby, Myriam Allard, Joyce Rosario, Natasha Eck, Mariano Abarca

How is diversity of practice defined by the sector and how do we plan for the health of a diverse dance milieu? Are presenting activities inclusive or are certain dance genres marginalized? What is on the minds of a newer generation of artists and presenters?

Followed by a report from the Freelancers & Consultants Standing Council

Planning for Preservation: Recording Yesterday and Today for the Future

Moderator: Amy Bowring

Speakers: Marc Boivin, Laurence Lemieux, Miriam Adams

Canada now boasts a roster of half-century- and quarter-century-old companies; our oldest company, the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, will soon reach the age of 75. The longevity of existing companies and the birth of new ones will only lead to the creation of more artifacts, archival materials and choreographic works. The federal government has asserted a policy on Library and Archives Canada to focus its collecting mandate on government documentation. Current dance archives are at the bursting point. How do we cope with a growing need for preservation? How do we keep the masterworks of our heritage alive?

The Burn-Out Factor: Supporting our Profession

Moderator: Nathalie Fave

Speakers: Ann Carbert, Heidi Strauss, Karen Jamieson

How do we support current dance professionals and prepare the next generation for healthy and fruitful careers? What avenues of renewal, if any, exist in the dance community? Who has been successful at finding career balance and avoiding burn-out?
